JFK Pins Strategy For Prosperity on New 5-Point Tax Plan

Income Levy Slash Urged

Chief Fears Recovery May 'Run Out of Gas'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy pins his strategy for prosperity on a five-point tax package that includes across-the-board income tax cuts starting next January.

"There is no need for this country to stand helplessly by and watch a recovery run out of gas," Kennedy told his news conference Thursday.

"We have a program to boost it and I hope that all those who are concerned about their stocks or their profits or their jobs will help us get action on this program," he added.

Thus inviting public support, including support from critics who contend administration policies upset the stock market, Kennedy urged Congress to get down to business quickly on his proposals.

Tax talk highlighted the news conference in which Kennedy snapped back at Republican detractors and said he would take the stump for Democratic candidates in the November elections.

He made clear the administration does not intend to recommend an immediate cut in income taxes.

But he said he will offer a tax reform bill providing reductions in both personal and corporate income taxes, effective Jan. 1, for congressional action next year.

Details are being worked out, he said, but will result in a net loss—the reductions "will not be wholly offset by other reforms."

He listed these other points in the program:

The House-passed tax credit for money invested in new machinery and equipment.

Forthcoming changes in schedules by which companies save money through tax writeoffs for depreciation of plant and equipment.

Kennedy estimated these two steps would represent a tax reduction for business of more than $2.5 billion.

Approval of his request for standby authority to cut taxes in order to head off threats of recession. The House Ways and Means committee hasn't acted on this proposal.

Repeal of the 10 per cent tax on rail and bus transportation and cutting the tax on air travel in half, to 5 per cent.

Kennedy declared he will be active in the fall election campaigns. And he congratulated former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for winning the GOP gubernatorial primary in California. That's one state in which Kennedy is expected to appear, on behalf of Nixon's opponent, Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Other states which party sources believe he is most likely to invade are Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Michigan, Kentucky and possibly Oregon, Utah and South Dakota.

Kennedy took a swing at Republican National Chairman William F. Miller and other GOP leaders after repudiating a statement by Democratic Chairman John M. (Continued on Page 2)

Salt Firms Freed By Federal Jury

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Three major salt companies accused of scheming to rig prices of rock salt were acquitted Thursday night by a federal jury.

The panel, which deliberated nearly seven hours, cleared Morton Salt Co., Chicago; International Salt Co., Clarks Summit, Pa.; and Diamond Crystal Salt Co., St. Clair, Mich.

The government had accused them of conspiring to fix prices on rock salt over a five-year period in violation of the Sherman Anti-trust Act. Conviction could have meant fines of up to $50,000.

Also named in the June 28, 1961, indictment was Carey Salt Co., Hutchinson, Kan., which entered a plea of nolo contendere (no contest).

Young East Germans Hijack Excursion Boat, Gain Freedom

BERLIN (AP) — Bringing a baby with them, 13 young East Germans hijacked a 500-ton river excursion boat early today and escaped to freedom under a hail of machine-gun bullets.

East German police, firing from a watch tower, a pier, a bridge and a patrol boat, pumped over 200 bullets into the fleeing vessel. Nobody was hurt.

West Berlin police fired 10 shots back at the East Germans to keep them from their fire. The boat, the Friedrich Wolf, was riddled and there were bullet marks on buildings on the West Berlin shore.

The escapees included eight men, all employees of East Berlin's "white fleet" of excursion boats, five women, and one couple's 5-month-old boy. The adults, all about 30 or under, told police they had been planning the escape for a week.

Thursday night the men in the group went aboard the Friedrich Wolf at her mooring beside the River Spree and began drinking with her captain and engineer. When the two were off guard, they jumped them and tied them up.

Under cover of darkness they spirited their women and the baby aboard. Then at dawn the men got the two-deck boat moving.

They swung into the Spree and headed toward the center of Berlin, making for the point where the left bank of the river becomes the border between East and West Berlin.

Posts of Vopos — as the East German police are called — opened fire.

Racing the engines at their top speed of 10 knots, the men aboard the Friedrich Wolf suddenly swung left and rammed the boat into the entrance of the Landwehr Canal — Western territory.

The escapees, moving quickly in twos and threes, sprang ashore. They flung themselves to the ground to escape the whipping bullets. When the West Berlin police fired, the Vopos checked their fire.

The whole thing was over in 20 minutes.

The boat's captain and engineer were allowed to get the boat under way and return to East Berlin.

'Sidewalk Sale' in Circleville On Retail Merchants Agenda

Several important upcoming projects will be discussed when the Retail Merchants Division of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce convenes for an 8 a. m. Tuesday breakfast meeting.

The scheduled session will be conducted at Benny's Court and Main Restaurant. Local merchants are urged to attend.

A main item on the agenda will be setting plans for a "Sidewalk Sale" in Circleville during July. Members of the Merchants division already have completed preliminary studies for the project.

Additional outlines and recommendations are expected to be aired Tuesday, according to Nat Lefko, chairman of the merchant unit. July also has been set as the annual period of "Circleville Days" observance.

A PROPOSAL by Police Chief Robert Temple, designed to curtail shopping in Circleville stores will be brought before the merchants.

Chief Temple has outlined training classes on shoplifting for members of his staff. Local store officials will be invited to attend the sessions.

Tentative plans call for the police instruction to be given in the basement classrooms at City Hall. Temple said his office will work with the Columbus Police Department in conducting the program.

The third item of business will center on a proposal to publish a new rural directory for Pickaway County. Merchants will be asked to express their opinions on the matter.

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP) — A Tampa, Fla., woman is seeking death benefits from the state of Ohio. She claims her husband died of acute lymphatic leukemia after coming into contact with radiation at the Pike County atomic energy plant.

Mrs. Ruby Smith Donathan, now remarried, is seeking the right to State Industrial Commission death payments in her suit against the commission, the Ohio Bureau of Workmen's Compensation and the Goodyear Atomic Corp., operators of the plant near here.

The jury trial opened Thursday. Her late husband, Herbert L. Smith Jr., reportedly came in contact with radioactive gases while working on a seal in a pipe at the plant in 1956. He died Feb. 15, 1957.

$400 in Money Orders Sent By Estes to Ex-Ag Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—James T. Ralph, former assistant secretary of agriculture, testified today he received two $100 money orders from Billie Sol Estes last January and his assistant, William E. Morris, got two more—a total of $400.

On the heels of this testimony, Robert E. Manuel, dismissed Republican counsel to the House subcommittee investigating the Estes case, charged that numerous others also received such money orders—including some members of Congress and at least one "very high ranking administration official."

Manuel said Morris has a list of those who received the money orders.

Ralph testified that when the money orders came in the mail he asked Morris what they were for, and Morris replied he thought they were for tickets to a $100-a-plate Kennedy inaugural anniversary dinner to be held soon in Washington.

He said he did not talk with Estes at any time about the money orders, but saw him at another table at the dinner later that month.

In a statement, Manuel quoted an Agriculture Department official as saying Estes personally pressured him by invoking the names of the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, but that Johnson's name was not brought into public testimony.

Manuel added: "This incident points up the way this investigation is being distorted—and the truth suppressed—either because of shoddy preparation, or a willingness to cover up."

Manuel said another incident involves a discussion by the subcommittee in closed session of how to deal with testimony "which would implicate certain members of Congress and at least one very high-ranking administration official."

"The testimony, taken in executive session, related to a list of individuals to whom Estes allegedly sent gifts in the form of money orders," Manuel added.

He said it was against this background that he decided, "as

Twelfth Question
Hurled at Rhodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes, republican gubernatorial nominee, has been asked another question by his Democratic rival, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The question, the 12th to be put before Rhodes, was:

"Do you favor lowering the amount now being paid to the widows and children of workmen killed in the course of employment in Ohio?"

The state auditor was not available for comment. However, Rhodes has told newsmen the questions probably would be discussed during the course of the campaign.

French Secret Army Mysteriously Curbs Algeria Terror Again

Senate Votes about Amount Asked by JFK for Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has voted a $4.7-billion ceiling on foreign aid spending next year—just about what President Kennedy requested.

But there's evidence Congress intends to slash away at the aid program before it finally provides the money that may be spent.

The measure passed Thursday by the Senate 61 to 23 simply sets limits on aid spending in the fiscal year that begins July 1. The appropriations will be handled later in separate legislation.

Actually, the administration had to settle for partial victory on its embattled provision for aid to Communist Poland and Yugoslavia in an attempt to wean them away from Soviet domination.

Wednesday the Senate voted 57 to 24 to bar foreign aid to such countries. But, with heavy pressure from the White House and combined appeals from Democratic and Republican leaders, the Senate retreated Thursday and voted 56 to 34 to exempt gifts and sales of surplus food.

It still left the ban on any assistance under the foreign aid bill itself, including $10 million in economic development loans the administration had programmed for Yugoslavia next fiscal year.

At his news conference Kennedy welcomed the action on food saying it would give him the necessary flexibility to help peoples who want to remain independent.

Only a short time later administration forces succeeded by the narrow vote of 45 to 40 in rejecting an amendment by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., which would have denied foreign aid to countries which export arms or strategic materials to Sino-Soviet bloc countries, including Cuba.

No attempts were made to cut the bill so far as money is concerned.

It carries authority for $600 million for fiscal 1963 for the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America and $800 million for each of the succeeding three years.

In addition it authorizes $1.5 billion for military assistance and $1.25 billion for economic development loans outside Latin America, authorized last year.

Neither of these items were subject to reduction in the authorization bill but likely will be the targets for sharp cuts when the appropriations bill comes up.

Starry-Eyed Grads Urged: Reach Moon

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter urged a starry-eyed Boulder High School graduating class Thursday night to reach for the moon.

"Your horizons are limited only by your own vision," said the Navy lieutenant commander, who was graduated from the same school 19 years ago.

Carpenter, 37, received a standing ovation from the 316 seniors and 2,500 relatives and guests.

The hometown hero, who two weeks earlier orbited the earth, said: "Going to the moon is no longer fantasy. There's a slight chance that men may age might someday be on the moon. Possibly people of your age will land not on the moon, but on the moons of Mars, and then on Mars itself."

Recalling his youth, Carpenter termed the world one of chaos when he was graduated in 1943.

"But the world you enter, in case you've heard news to the contrary, is rich with promise," he said. "You really don't know what riches await you there await but they're not going to drop into your lap. You have to go get them."

Carpenter said the graduates have their work cut out for them. "We are engaged now in a battle with another ideology for the minds of men, the effects of which may be felt for another 1,000 years," he said. "It is your responsibility, whether you like it or not, to see that our God-fearing way of life continues and that freedom survives."

MESSINA, Sicily (AP) — For weeks Maria, a 2-year-old goat, has waited in the main street of the hamlet of San Marco d'Alunzio for Nino the donkey to amble by.

Thursday Basilio Notario, 70, was riding Nino when the donkey came to town.

Maria jumped as she always had.

Bing Crosby Pays Fine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Clerks at the Columbus Traffic Fines Bureau did a double-take Thursday when they received a $5 check signed by Bing Crosby. Peace Appeal Seen Effective

Binge of Shootings,
Arson Ends Abruptly

ALGIERS (AP)—The European Secret Army Organization today mysteriously halted its terrorism in Algiers at least temporarily after a day of arson and indiscriminate shooting.

Hopeful French officials believed the appeal for peace by Jean Georges Sarradet, head of some 2,000 secret army commandos, was beginning to work.

Sarradet called Thursday on his fellow terrorists to abandon their struggle and seek peace with the top leaders of Moslem nationalism.

But at this stage the leaders of the Algerian nationalists apparently had no desire to deal with the European terrorists.

Throughout the morning, thousands of rain-soaked Europeans besieged banks and the remaining post office buildings to withdraw savings.

The secret army spread word through the city that starting Tuesday it will prevent the operation of banks and halt money transfers to France.

At the administrative center at Rocher Noir, the commission controlling the forthcoming self-determination referendum announced that seven political parties registered for the July 1 voting.

Among the parties are the Moslem rebel Front of National Liberation (FLN) and its rival national Algerian movement which registered under its old name of the "Party of the Algerian People."

Not a single party representing Algeria's Europeans made its appearance as the deadline for registrations expired at midnight.

The hitherto banned Algerian Communist party asked for permission to campaign.

France's high commissioner in Algiers, Christian Fouchet, was summoned to Paris by President Charles de Gaulle for urgent consultation.

The mysterious halt in secret army terrorism throughout the morning was a surprise, for new fire attacks on government buildings and economic installations in the scorched earth campaign had been expected.

Flames shot high over Oran—Algeria's second largest city—Thursday night after a baby-trapped tank truck exploded and spread flaming gasoline over a new high school used as a police barracks.

Secret army commandos struck almost simultaneously at a big natural gas tank in the same part of town and set it afire.

The fiery attacks in Oran came a few hours after three phosphorus bombs started a fire that gutted the main building of Algiers University, in the capital.

Party chieftains will put in a full day before reaching their big decision, probably late tonight. Both men—Teddy is 30, Eddie is 38—flashed brilliant, confident smiles and claimed victory. Kennedy—"We will have a clear majority" with possibly 1,000 votes.

McCormack—"I have 916." Since it takes 862 votes to win if all the delegates are present, somebody's arithmetic is remarkably shoddy.

Charges and counter-charges flew. McCormack told a news conference he is "doing the President a favor" by attempting to defeat his brother.

"There is a lot of talk about the national dynasty issue now," he explained. "The Republicans would have the greatest domestic issue if Ted is elected, but if Ted is defeated the dynasty issue is dead."

Kennedy denied emphatically at his own news session rumors that income tax investigations, deportation proceedings and promises of postmasterships were being used to swing delegates into his camp. McCormack specifically mentioned 52 postmasterships left unfilled.

Kennedy answered that such charges "insult the integrity" of McCormack supporters.

McCormack charges pressure and "arm-twisting" have been used to lure his delegates. He said he has affidavits to prove such pressure but did not want to use them because they could hurt the President in 1964.

Kennedy made an unqualified denial that either of his brothers, the President or Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, had used their influence to help him.

Newsmen told him McCormack had said he would keep his affidavits secret unless Kennedy challenged him to disclose them.

"Then I challenge him," Kennedy declared.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes, republican gubernatorial nominee, has been asked another question by his Democratic rival, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The question, the 12th to be put before Rhodes, was:

"Do you favor lowering the amount now being paid to the widows and children of workmen killed in the course of employment in Ohio?"

The state auditor was not available for comment. However, Rhodes has told newsmen the questions probably would be discussed during the course of the campaign.

Senate Votes about Amount Asked by JFK for Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has voted a $4.7-billion ceiling on foreign aid spending next year—just about what President Kennedy requested.

But there's evidence Congress intends to slash away at the aid program before it finally provides the money that may be spent.

The measure passed Thursday by the Senate 61 to 23 simply sets limits on aid spending in the fiscal year that begins July 1. The appropriations will be handled later in separate legislation.

Actually, the administration had to settle for partial victory on its embattled provision for aid to Communist Poland and Yugoslavia in an attempt to wean them away from Soviet domination.

Wednesday the Senate voted 57 to 24 to bar foreign aid to such countries. But, with heavy pressure from the White House and combined appeals from Democratic and Republican leaders, the Senate retreated Thursday and voted 56 to 34 to exempt gifts and sales of surplus food. It still left the ban on any assistance under the foreign aid bill itself, including $10 million in economic development loans the administration had programmed for Yugoslavia next fiscal year.

At his news conference Kennedy welcomed the action on food saying it would give him the necessary flexibility to help peoples who want to remain independent. Only a short time later administration forces succeeded by the narrow vote of 45 to 40 in rejecting an amendment by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., which would have denied foreign aid to countries which export arms or strategic materials to Sino-Soviet bloc countries, including Cuba.

No attempts were made to cut the bill so far as money is concerned. It carries authority for $600 million for fiscal 1963 for the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America and $800 million for each of the succeeding three years.

In addition it authorizes $1.5 billion for military assistance and $1.25 billion for economic development loans outside Latin America, authorized last year.

Neither of these items were subject to reduction in the authorization bill but likely will be the targets for sharp cuts when the appropriations bill comes up.

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter urged a starry-eyed Boulder High School graduating class Thursday night to reach for the moon.

"Your horizons are limited only by your own vision," said the Navy lieutenant commander, who was graduated from the same school 19 years ago.

Carpenter, 37, received a standing ovation from the 316 seniors and 2,500 relatives and guests.

The hometown hero, who two weeks earlier orbited the earth, said: "Going to the moon is no longer fantasy. There's a slight chance that men may go there someday be on the moon, but on the moon, and then on Mars itself."

Recalling his youth, Carpenter termed the world one of chaos when he was graduated in 1943. "But the world you enter, in case you've heard news to the contrary, is rich with promise," he said. "You really don't know what riches await you. They await but they're not going to drop into your lap. You have to go get them."

Carpenter said the graduates have their work cut out for them. "We are engaged now in a battle with another ideology for the minds of men, the effects of which may be felt for another 1,000 years," he said. "It is your responsibility, whether you like it or not, to see that our God-fearing way of life continues and that freedom survives."

Girl, 5, Saves Brother From Family Swim Pool

CLEVELAND (AP)—Debbie Litvak is only 5 and weighs only 41 pounds, but she knew just what to do when her 4-year-old brother wandered into their swimming pool Thursday.

The children's father, Sanford, said Debbie ran immediately to the side of the pool and caught Steven's hands when the youngster came to the surface. The girl pulled Steven, who weighs 35 pounds, to the edge of the pool and helped him crawl out of the water.

Peace Appeal Seen Effective

Binge of Shootings, Arson Ends Abruptly

ALGIERS (AP)—The European Secret Army Organization today mysteriously halted its terrorism in Algeria at least temporarily after a day of arson and indiscriminate shooting.

Hopeful French officials believed the appeal for peace by Jean Georges Sarradet, head of some 2,000 secret army commandos, was beginning to work.

Serradet called Thursday on his fellow terrorists to abandon their struggle and seek peace with the top leaders of Moslem nationalism.

But at this stage the leaders of the Algerian nationalists apparently had no desire to deal with the European terrorists.

Throughout the morning, thousands of rain-soaked Europeans besieged banks and the remaining post office buildings to withdraw savings.

The secret army spread word through the city that starting Tuesday it will prevent the operation of banks and halt money transfers to France.

At the administrative center at Rocher Noir, the commission controlling the forthcoming self-determination referendum announced that seven political parties registered for the July 1 voting.

Among the parties are the Moslem rebel Front of National Liberation (FLN) and its rival national Algerian movement which registered under its old name of the "Party of the Algerian People."

Not a single party representing Algeria's Europeans made its appearance as the deadline for registrations expired at midnight.

The hitherto banned Algerian Communist party asked for permission to campaign.

France's high commissioner in Algiers, Christian Fouchet, was summoned to Paris by President Charles de Gaulle for urgent consultation.

The mysterious halt in secret army terrorism throughout the morning was a surprise, for new fire attacks on government buildings and economic installations in the scorched earth campaign had been expected.

Flames shot high over Oran—Algeria's second largest city—Thursday night after a bobby-trapped tank truck exploded and spread flaming gasoline over a new high school used as a police barracks.

Secret army commandos struck almost simultaneously at a big natural gas tank in the same part of town and set it afire.

The fiery attacks in Oran came a few hours after three phosphorus bombs started a fire that gutted the main building of Algiers University, in the capital.

Union Chiefs 'Welcome' Libel Suit

CLEVELAND (AP)—A spokesman for an officer of Operating Engineers Local 18 said Wednesday night a $6.8 million libel suit filed by eight members of an opposition group in the union is "an effort to harass the local's officers prior to an election."

"We didn't libel anyone," said William P. Cline, attorney for Frank P. Converse, general business manager of the 9,200 member union.

In the suit filed in Common Pleas Court, eight rebel members of the union asked $850,000 each from Converse and 12 other officers of the local. The eight in their petitions accused the union officials of publishing a phony report of a plot to shoot Joseph Delaney, president of the International Union of Operating Engineers, when he went to a meeting in Columbus last June.

The suit charged that Converse and other officials published the report in an effort to discredit the rebel members.

The eight denied knowledge of any plot against Delaney and said Columbus police were not given any such information and did not provide protection for Delaney.

Converse and other Local 18 officers are running for election in the state-wide organization from June 10 to 20. Converse, 76, has held top office in the union for 40 years.

The ten finalists will be presented in talent routines including dance numbers, piano and vocal solos.

Miss Trone, a 1960 graduate of Ashville High School, will present several vocal solos between the contestants' talent routines.

Mexico—He still intends to visit Mexico the end of this month.

The accused is scheduled to be transported to the Cincinnati compound tomorrow, according to city police.

Union Chiefs 'Welcome' Libel Suit

CLEVELAND (AP)—A spokesman for an officer of Operating Engineers Local 18 said Wednesday night a $6.8 million libel suit filed by eight members of an opposition group in the union is "an effort to harass the local's officers prior to an election."

"We didn't libel anyone," said William P. Clyne, attorney for Frank P. Converse, general business manager of the 9,200 member union.

In the suit filed in Common Pleas Court, eight rebel members of the union asked $850,000 each from Converse and 12 other officers of the local. The eight in their petitions accused the union officials of publishing a phony report of a plot to shoot Joseph Delaney, president of the International Union of Operating Engineers, when he went to a meeting in Columbus last June.

The suit charged that Converse and other officials published the report in an effort to discredit the rebel members.

The eight denied knowledge of any plot against Delaney and said Columbus police were not given any such information and did not provide protection for Delaney.

Converse and other Local 18 officers are running for election in the state-wide organization from June 10 to 20. Converse, 76, has held top office in the union for 40 years.

City Sentences First Violator To Workhouse

Circleville Municipal Court today sentenced its first prisoner to the Cincinnati Workhouse under a recently completed contract.

Receiving the initial sentence was Robert Reynolds, Circleville. He was arrested this week for habitual intoxication.

The sentence was passed by Harry Margulis, acting Municipal Court judge. The workhouse term was set at 30 days, in addition to a fine of $50 and costs.

The accused is scheduled to be transported to the Cincinnati compound tomorrow, according to city police.

CIRCLEVILLE entered into a contract with Cincinnati several weeks ago relative to costs and handling of prisoners from here following approval by City Council.

Police Chief Robert Temple today said his department has been ordered to launch a crackdown on habitual intoxication violators. Those arrested will face workhouse sentences, he added.

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy's tax-cut pledge brought no particular inspiration to the stock market today. Prices were a bit higher in quiet trading early this afternoon.

$5 Billion in Tax Relief May Be Sought by Kennedy

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of four articles dealing with this nation's economy.

By STERLING F. GREEN
AP Economic Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tax cut proposed by President Kennedy for next Jan. 1 would have the stimulative effect of a multi-billion dollar pay raise for wage earners and a profits boost for industry.

Kennedy's advisers are talking tentatively about a $5-billion net reduction in the tax package the President will ask Congress to approve. Some think it should be bigger, some don't want to lose that much revenue.

Top-to-bottom rate reduction in individual income and corporation taxes was part of the original Kennedy blueprint to "get the country moving forward"—a program which had been roughly sketched out within weeks after he took office.

But that was to have been a tax-reform program, not a tax reduction plan. The rate reductions were to be offset completely by loophole-closing and the trimming of deductions, exemptions and preferences now enjoyed by many groups.

That's not longer the case. The stock market's convulsions reinforced the decision to cut as well as reform. Its symptoms of nervous distress also advanced the date on which the big tax overhaul would take effect.

Originally it was believed that Congress — which historically moves at a snail's pace on tax legislation—would take all next session and quite possibly part of the 1964 session in dealing with massive overhaul. Tax relief would have waited.

Now Kennedy has announced his willingness to cut taxes only six months and three weeks from today. The bill will be sent to the Capitol this summer.

By his announcement Thursday, Kennedy may have quashed the demands of some Congress members for an emergency, quickie tax cut while achieving virtually the same effect—assuring workers and business managers that their take-home pay will be bigger and their after-tax profits larger, only a few months from now.

Estimates of the net tax relief are running as high as $7 billion. Five billion is more frequently mentioned, as being about the minimum but which would make enough difference in consumers' paychecks to encourage purchases of new cars, homes and major appliances.

Deductions in the top income tax rate from 91 per cent to perhaps 65 per cent has been considered. At the other end of the taxable income scale, the basic 20 per cent might be dropped to 16 or 18 per cent.

The corporation tax rate of 52 per cent probably would be cut to something below 50 per cent. A range of 47 to 49 per cent has been under discussion.

Some bad news would accompany the good. A whole bundle of reforms is under consideration, to eliminate the patchwork of special concession and exemptions stitched onto the tax structure over the years for the benefit of special groups. But all taxpayers would come out ahead.

Such a tax reduction would mean at least one more year of budget deficit. Revenues presumably would be cut seriously in fiscal 1964, a year in which government spending is expected to rise to $85 or $86 billion. The anticipated increase of about $3 billion from this year's budgeted outlays is mainly the result of built-in increases in the space and military programs.

Despite the prospective red ink, most administration advisers are said to be convinced that strong medicine is needed to fortify—if not to rescue—Kennedy's grand strategy for American growth in a world of heightened competition.

The Kennedy strategy is two-sided. It involves:

First, enlisting the cooperation of labor and management in keeping wage settlements and price decisions noninflationary.

Second, making it possible for business to amass the funds needed for modernization of the nation's industrial plant.

The first approach has run into grave trouble. Steelmakers rebelled at price restraint and set out to improve their profits in the traditional way — a price boost. Kennedy reacted angrily and forcefully to salvage his grand design.

The second approach is faring better. The Treasury shortly will issue liberalized tax allowances for depreciation on machinery and equipment, and Congress seems likely to enact most of Kennedy's first-phase tax revision program, built around a tax credit for big and little companies which invest in new plant equipment.

The administration is confident these measures will remove many of the financial obstacles to the cutting of costs and the improvement of efficiency. If so, they may incidentally make business less anti-Kennedy.

Army Reports Romantic GI's Record Reveals Black Marks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says it didn't try to throw a roadblock in the way of William H. Mahoney's romance with a Korean girl.

Mahoney, the Army declared Wednesday, went AWOL from Ft. Lewis, Wash., about the time his application to marry Miss Song In Cha was to be forwarded to the Army command in Korea.

Mahoney, of Riverside, Calif., had complained to West Coast newsmen the Army had stymied his efforts to marry the girl while he was stationed in Korea.

Officers told him, he said, there wasn't time to process his marriage application, that his request for a six-month duty extension in Korea was refused and that his bid for re-enlistment was rejected.

In response to queries, an Army spokesman said:

Mahoney never filed a marriage application while he was in Korea.

He applied for a six-month duty extension but bypassed his company commander so was told to reapply through channels.

He did not reapply for several months, then came in with an application on Jan. 26, when his orders to return to the United States were already in hand and it was too late to act on the extension.

He applied for permission to marry on returning to Ft. Lewis but 6th Army headquarters there held that the matter would have to be handled by 8th Army command in Korea.

The Army spokesman said the 6th Army was about to forward Mahoney's application when the soldier went absent without leave.

Mahoney was convicted and sentenced to serve six months in the stockade and to forfeit $70 a month in pay, said the spokesman.

He served 66 days of the sentence, said the Army.

The spokesman said it was Mahoney's second AWOL sentence.

Heart Attack Blamed In Luciano's Death

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Charles (Lucky) Luciano died last Jan. 26 of a heart attack and not from poison, an official Italian medical report said today.

There had been reports both here and in the United States that the former New York vice lord might have been poisoned to seal his lips, or taken poison to escape rearrest.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is probably no activity in which the Kennedy administration has been so vague—or silent—as on the economic and military aid it is giving South Viet Nam.

The United States, under the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations combined, has put about $2 billion in aid into South Viet Nam in its fight against Communist guerrillas.

President Kennedy has sent a force of perhaps 6,000 military men there, plus various kinds of military equipment, including about 80 helicopters.

Exact information on the equipment, the men, and what they're doing is supposed to be classified technically as a military secret.

The French, before they gave up, held South Viet Nam as a colony. Now the country, with its own government under President Diem, is in effect a dictatorship. The Communist guerrillas had been making a lot of progress.

When Kennedy was a senator he emphasized repeatedly that South Viet Nam needed economic aid and reforms to give the masses of the people a tangible reason for opposing the Communists and their promises.

Last October Kennedy sent his military adviser, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, over there to see what was needed. Last December, after Taylor's return, the administration let out this information:

That military help to Viet Nam would be increased and that the Diem government had agreed to a dozen new steps—including social reforms and more representative government—to make the anti-Communist fight tougher.

Everything since then—on the subject of reforms—has been extremely vague.

But what kind of help the American military forces are giving South Vietnamese has also been extremely shadowy. Kennedy has said this is a sensitive subject.

Here are some bits of information picked out of AP stories about the American military role in Viet Nam in the past six months about the American military role there.

American fliers ferry South Vietnamese troops in helicopters to the battle zone. U.S. pilots are in the cockpits of Vietnamese fighting planes, instructing Diem's pilots in "the learn while you fight" principle.

Further: U.S. advisers are in the jungles, marshes and forests, working with Vietnamese commanders down to the company level. And one AP dispatch reported a U.S. Army field grade officer as saying:

"Our people are fighting along with the Vietnamese, counterpart to counterpart."

"American servicemen are being shot at by the (Communist) Viet Cong and they are shooting back. We're supplying arms and equipment and we're fighting and, if that isn't war, I don't know what is."

The corporation tax rate of 52 per cent probably would be cut to something below 50 per cent. A range of 47 to 49 per cent has been under discussion.

Some bad news would accompany the good. A whole bundle of reforms is under consideration, to eliminate the patchwork of special concessions and exemptions stitched onto the tax structure over the years for the benefit of special groups. But all taxpayers would come out ahead.

Such a tax reduction would mean at least one more year of budget deficit. Revenues presumably would be cut seriously in fiscal 1964, a year in which government spending is expected to rise to $95 or $96 billion. The anticipated increase of about $3 billion from this year's budgeted outlays is mainly the result of built-in increases in the space and military programs.

Despite the prospective red ink, most administration advisers are said to be convinced that strong medicine is needed to fortify—if not to rescue—Kennedy's grand strategy for American growth in a world of heightened competition.

The Kennedy strategy is two-sided. It involves:

First, enlisting the cooperation of labor and management in keeping wage settlements and price decisions noninflationary.

Second, making it possible for business to amass the funds needed for modernization of the nation's industrial plant.

The first approach has run into grave trouble. Steelmakers rebelled at price restraint and set out to improve their profits in the traditional way — a price boost. Kennedy reacted angrily and forcefully to salvage his grand design.

The second approach is faring better. The Treasury shortly will issue liberalized tax allowances for depreciation on machinery and equipment, and Congress seems likely to enact most of Kennedy's first-phase tax revision program, built around a tax credit for big and little companies which invest in new plant equipment.

The administration is confident these measures will remove many of the financial obstacles to the cutting of costs and the improvement of efficiency. If so, they may incidentally make business less anti-Kennedy.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is probably no activity in which the Kennedy administration has been so vague—or silent—as on the economic and military aid it is giving South Viet Nam.

The United States, under the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations combined, has put about $2 billion in aid into South Viet Nam in its fight against Communist guerrillas.

President Kennedy has sent a force of perhaps 6,000 military men there, plus various kinds of military equipment, including about 80 helicopters.

Exact information on the equipment, the men, and what they're doing is supposed to be classified technically as a military secret.

The French, before they gave up, held South Viet Nam as a colony. Now the country, with its own government under President Diem, is in effect a dictatorship. The Communist guerrillas had been making a lot of progress.

When Kennedy was a senator he emphasized repeatedly that South Viet Nam needed economic aid and reforms to give the masses of the people a tangible reason for opposing the Communists and their promises.

Last October Kennedy sent his military adviser, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, over there to see what was needed. Last December, after Taylor's return, the administration let out this information:

That military help to Viet Nam would be increased and that the Diem government had agreed to a dozen new steps—including social reforms and more representative government—to make the anti-Communist fight tougher.

Everything since then—on the subject of reforms—has been extremely vague.

But what kind of help the American military forces are giving South Vietnamese has also been extremely shadowy. Kennedy has said this is a sensitive subject.

Here are some bits of information picked out of AP stories about the American military role in Viet Nam in the past six months about the American military role there.

American fliers ferry South Vietnamese troops in helicopters to the battle zone. U.S. pilots are in the cockpits of Vietnamese fighting planes, instructing Diem's pilots in "the learn while you fight" principle.

Further: U.S. advisers are in the jungles, marshes and forests, working with Vietnamese commanders down to the company level. And one AP dispatch reported a U.S. Army field grade officer as saying:

"Our people are fighting along with the Vietnamese, counterpart to counterpart."

Army Reports Romantic GI's Record Reveals Black Marks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army says it didn't try to throw a roadblock in the way of William H. Mahoney's romance with a Korean girl.

Mahoney, the Army declared Wednesday, went AWOL from Ft. Lewis, Wash., about the time his application to marry Miss Song In Cha was to be forwarded to the Army command in Korea.

Mahoney, of Riverside, Calif., had complained to West Coast newsmen the Army had stymied his efforts to marry the girl while he was stationed in Korea.

Officers told him, he said, there wasn't time to process his marriage application, that his request for a six-month duty extension in Korea was refused and that his bid for re-enlistment was rejected.

In response to queries, an Army spokesman said:

Mahoney never filed a marriage application while he was in Korea.

He applied for a six-month duty extension but bypassed his company commander so was told to reapply through channels.

He did not reapply for several months, then came in with an application on Jan. 26, when his orders to return to the United States were already in hand and it was too late to act on the extension.

He applied for permission to marry on returning to Ft. Lewis but 6th Army headquarters there held that the matter would have to be handled by 8th Army command in Korea.

The Army spokesman said the 6th Army was about to forward Mahoney's application when the soldier went absent without leave.

Mahoney was convicted and sentenced to serve six months in the stockade and to forfeit $70 a month in pay, said the spokesman.

He served 66 days of the sentence, said the Army.

The spokesman said it was Mahoney's second AWOL sentence.

Gold Drain Still Serious

An interesting question of the international economic world is why the flap two years ago over the gold drain out of the United States and the adverse U. S. balance of payments to foreign countries has not recurred.

The drain of gold stock is just as serious as it was in 1960 and shows no signs of abating. President Kennedy's hopes were for an upsurge of the economy and foreign trade to cut the drain and restore a payments balance. This upsurge has failed to develop to the extent envisaged.

Despite this, there has been no reaction in Europe, no "flight" from the dollar. Several reasons are cited by monetary experts in Paris. These include:

1. There is great respect for the economic power of the U. S. and confidence that the gold drain will not be allowed to continue until the dollar is hopelessly undermined.

2. Central banks abroad are cooperating to prevent an increase in the discount on the dollar in foreign exchange markets because they know this would hurt everyone.

3. Although European currencies have strengthened remarkably in a few months and the dollar has weakened comparatively, monetary officials contend that the situation could switch back quickly.

4. Even though business has not boomed in the U. S. as much as the White House would like, the economy is considered good by foreigners. There is no recession in sight yet.

The last point is important. For the danger point will come for the dollar when another recession rolls around. Then is the time when Washington must be ready to undergird the dollar and protect the remaining gold supply.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Wide swings in stock prices here and overseas have sent the price of gold up after months of stability. Gold mining stocks also have been strong, especially on the London market.

Gold always glitters more when stocks look uncertain. And helping just now is a big upswing in U.S. imports this year. This raises anew the problem of what to do about the continuing deficit in U.S. balance of payments and the renewed outflow of U.S. gold in recent weeks.

The American dollar isn't in any present danger. Pressure on it in world financial marts hasn't been great, despite all the furore on Wall Street and the talk of big Treasury deficits ahead.

The U.S. Treasury has new means of protecting the dollar through a pool worked out by the central banks of the United States, Britain, France, West Germany and other financial centers. The pool can be drawn upon to ward off any moderate run on a threatened currency.

But any jump in the price of gold on the London free market catches the eye of those charged with protecting the dollar. The memory of the run on our gold stores in the fall of 1960 is still fresh.

Gold was quoted on the London exchange Thursday at $35.09½ an ounce, up from $35.08½ the previous day. Only a few weeks back it had fallen below $35.08—roughly the cost of buying an ounce from the U.S. Treasury.

The premium now over the U.S. official price could lead European central banks with surplus dollars to exchange them for gold. While a number of these banks, principally the Bank of England, have been doing just that this year, the move was to strengthen their resources, and presumably was done with the knowledge and approval of the U.S. government.

While the current rise in the demand for gold on the London free market—gold can't be bought or sold in the United States except for industrial and artistic uses or for the account of a foreign central bank—is due largely to the weakness in the stock market. Other factors are involved.

One is uncertainty about the course of U.S. government finances. Will taxes be cut? Will tax collections drop enough to bring on a big Treasury deficit? Will pump priming or other government spending have the same result?

Another is the uncertainty this year in the deficit in the balance of payments—a deficit lasting now for several years because we sent more dollars abroad than we got back.

The balance of trade, on the other hand, has been in our favor. This is the excess of exports over imports. But this year imports have risen to an annual rate of $16 billion, well over the 1961 pace of $14.8 billion for the entire year. April imports were the highest in more than two years.

Time for Vigilance

By George Sokolsky

Mrs. Mary Ellen Benson was fined $10.40 in a Milwaukee Court because she went to church on a Sunday morning. According to Judge Robert Miech she should have gone to a union meeting.

It is difficult for one not living in Milwaukee and not knowing the parties concerned to understand that business it was of the judge's anyhow. Are our courts of law designed to enforce union regulations? The particular union to which Mrs. Benson belongs chooses to meet on Sunday mornings; it also chooses to fine members who do not attend three out of five meetings.

This is strictly a private matter between Mrs. Benson and the union. If she is deprived of her job because she prefers to go to church rather than to the union meeting, she ought to be able to sue the union for blacklisting her because of her religious scruples and a sensible judge and jury would support her in her preference of God over the union.

Mrs. Benson said: "The union meetings come on Sunday mornings exactly at my church time. I've told them (the union) over and over again that I will never go to their meetings as long as they are on Sunday — and I still won't."

Bravo! That is the old, fighting spirit. If more of that were left in this country, there would be less bureaucracy in government, in business, in labor. The other day, I tried to put through a long distance telephone call and it took me four calls because either the operators were fresh or did not understand simple English, clearly enunciated. When I asked for a supervisor, I was told she was busy. The telephone company is a business enterprise which charges for its services. It used to be an efficient organization with delightful and helpful operators. It advertised, "The Girl with the Smile."

There is no longer a smile. Those girls won a strike and they are as proud as all get out. If one avoids the person-to-person call and uses the various code numbers, he can miss the yakety-yak of the fresh operator, but the person-to-person call is a proper service.

It is the same with the telegraph companies. A person can fly from Rome to New York faster than a telegram. I was notified by my nephew from France that my son was leaving Rome on a Friday. Friday morning, a non-English, accented person telephoned the message which turned out to be incorrect. It was corrected by telephone late in the afternoon. My son arrived Friday night at 7 p. m. The telegram and its correction arrived at my house, in the heart of New York City, Saturday morning at about 8 a. m.

When boys were permitted to work after school, telegrams were rapidly delivered. The boy got a good tip. Instead today, such a boy has to hang around, after he has begun to grow a beard, waiting to be old enough to be permitted to work. His life pattern is organized on the theory that prolonged loafing is individually and socially beneficial.

There is a shortage of all kinds of help, but youngsters may not work for pay, except to cut the grass. Mrs. Benson's experience forces me to think that the arrogance of some unions today is as great as the arrogance of the self-made businessman was before the 1929 crash when he learned that his business judgement was not so good.

The union office know that Americans generally like to go to church on Sunday mornings. It is an old custom. It is part of the national mores. The union could well hold its meetings at some other time and should not have used the secular arm of a court to impose its peculiarities upon anyone.

There is a lot of noise about the separation of church and state, but when a union and a judge decide that an American way be fined for attending a church, something very evil has entered into our way of life and that evil must be stamped out by all decent people. It is the evil of materialism, which weakens the sinews of the family and therefore weakens the nation. One bad judgement of an individual need not force us to a generalized conclusion but it does require vigilance.

Home runs are so frequent these days, Says Z a d o k Dumkopf, that a double rates no better than a scratch hit.

The trouble with news headlines today is that there's too often the appearance of the words "Threaten" and "Defy" and not nearly often enough such words as "Admit" and "Agree."

Come to think of it, wouldn't it be swell if even for just one day the report of the status of the whole world would be "A-O-K."?

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

LON TINKLE noticed that a female neighbor of his in a fashionable suburb of Dallas had five brand new Lincoln Continentals—all cocoa colored—lined up in front of her door. "You didn't actually buy all these cars at one time?" gasped Tinkle. "Yes, I did, honey," said the neighbor. "My phone was out of order for a whole day and the man who runs the agency was dreamy about letting me use his. And when people are nice to you in a store—well, you can't just walk out without buying something!"

They say that one famous Broadway publicist is so nearsighted that when he spotted an apartment house roof covered with TV antennas, he cried out in a panic, "Hey, you crazy kids! Come down off that roof!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

You're shipwrecked, diabetic and out of insulin! What can you do?

Try aspirin — if you have a first-aid kit. Aspirin has many faces. It's more than a mask for feverish aches and pains.

Aspirin may prevent fever blisters which break out the first day of each menstrual period. Temperature climbs a little the day before.

Eight aspirins — 1 every 6 hours during both days — seem to have cured several women. Apparently no fever, no fever blisters! Perhaps enthusiastic promises filled each aspirin with special magic.

Promise-free tablets could have worked. Aspirin blocks chemicals that weaken resistance.

Aspirin is an acid which drains through the kidneys. A few daily pills keep kidney flow acid. Budding calcium stones dissolve before they can clog your internal plumbing.

Red, swollen rheumatic joints melt before aspirin. After a few tablets, rheumatic fever victims seem so well that they are a real headache!

It's almost impossible to pinpoint the ailment. No one can prove that the latest cortisone does any more.

Danger clouds aspirin's other faces. Fifteen or twenty daily tablets can replace many medicines — if you don't mind teetering on the brink of poisoning.

They slow blood-clotting and thin out circulating cholesterol. A two-pronged attack against heart trouble! Diet and newer medicines are better and safer.

They calm gouty pain and flush uric acid out through the kidney.

Time for Vigilance

Mrs. Mary Ellen Benson was fined $10.40 in a Milwaukee Court because she went to church on a Sunday morning. According to Judge Robert Miech she should have gone to a union meeting.

It is difficult for one not living in Milwaukee and not knowing the parties concerned to understand that business it was of the judge's anyhow. Are our courts of law designed to enforce union regulations? The particular union to which Mrs. Benson belongs chooses to meet on Sunday mornings; it also chooses to fine members who do not attend three out of five meetings.

This is strictly a private matter between Mrs. Benson and the union. If she is deprived of her job because she prefers to go to church rather than to the union meeting, she ought to be able to sue the union for blacklisting her because of her religious scruples and a sensible judge and jury would support her in her preference of God over the union.

Mrs. Benson said:

"The union meetings come on Sunday mornings exactly at my church time. I've told them (the union) over and over again that I will never go to their meetings as long as they are on Sunday — and I still won't."

Bravo! That is the old, fighting spirit. If more of that were left in this country, there would be less bureaucracy in government, in business, in labor. The other day, I tried to put through a long distance telephone call and it took me four calls because either the operators were fresh or did not understand simple English, clearly enunciated. When I asked for a supervisor, I was told she was busy. The telephone company is a business enterprise which charges for its services. It used to be an efficient organization with delightful and helpful operators. It advertised, "The Girl with the Smile."

There is no longer a smile. Those girls won a strike and they are as proud as all get out. If one avoids the person-to-person call and uses the various code numbers, he can miss the yakety-yak of the fresh operator, but the person-to-person call is a proper service.

It is the same with the telegraph companies. A person can fly from Rome to New York faster than a telegram. I was notified by my nephew from France that my son was leaving Rome on a Friday. Friday morning, a non-English, accented person telephoned the message which turned out to be incorrect. It was corrected by telephone late in the afternoon. My son arrived Friday night at 7 p. m. The telegram and its correction arrived at my house, in the heart of New York City, Saturday morning at about 8 a. m.

When boys were permitted to work after school, telegrams were rapidly delivered. The boy got a good tip. Instead today, such a boy has begun to grow a beard, waiting to be old enough to be permitted to work. His life pattern is organized on the theory that prolonged loafing is individually and socially beneficial.

There is a shortage of all kinds of help, but youngsters may not work for pay, except to cut the grass. Mrs. Benson's experience forces me to think that the arrogance of some unions today is as great as the arrogance of the self-made businessman was before the 1929 crash when he learned that his business judgement was not so good.

The union office know that Americans generally like to go to church on Sunday mornings. It is an old custom. It is part of the national mores. The union could well hold its meetings at some other time and should not have used the secular arm of a court to impose its peculiarities upon anyone.

There is a lot of noise about the separation of church and state, but when a union and a judge decide that an American may be fined for attending a church, something very evil has entered into our way of life and that evil must be stamped out by all decent people. It is the evil of materialism, which weakens the sinews of the family and therefore weakens the nation. One bad judgement of an individual need not force us to a generalized conclusion but it does require vigilance.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook.

Nighttime cooling under mostly fair skies Thursday night lowered temperatures by dawn today into the 50s and 60s. Some of these near-dawn temperatures included Columbus and Dayton 63, Cleveland 62, Cincinnati 67 and Toledo 56.

As high pressure north of the Great Lakes slides slowly eastward, winds will gradually turn from the east toward the south-east today. This will produce a little more cloudiness than Thursday. However, sunshine should dominate most of today.

Dry weather mostly likely will continue tonight. There is a good possibility of thundershowers developing Saturday, especially in the southwestern counties, and spreading over most of the state by Saturday afternoon or night.

Temperatures this afternoon and Saturday afternoon will be in the 80s, except for portions of the northern counties. Little change in temperature is forecast tonight.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average five to seven degrees below normal. Normal high 78 - 80, normal low 56-60. Pleasant through Saturday, considerable cloudiness and somewhat cooler with scattered showers Sunday and early next week, followed by clearing and a slow warming trend through mid-week. Rainfall will average three-tenths to four-tenths of an inch.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average two to four degrees below normal with minor day-to-day changes. Normal high 79-84, normal low 58-62. Rainfall will average three-fourths to one inch in occasional periods of showers or thundershowers Saturday through Monday.

Spelling Bee Declared Draw

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials called the national spelling bee a draw today and crowned Michael Day of Hardin, Ill., and Nettie Crawford of Roswell, N.M., as co-champions.

The decision was reached after the two, with all the rest of the field of 70 eliminated, had engaged in more than an hour of head - and - head wrestling with words that grew stranger by the round.

They had used up a total of 59 tongue-twisting words, many derived from foreign languages.

The beaming winners, tall, 13-year-old Nettie, eighth - grade daughter of a New Mexico farmer, and red-haired Michael, 14, also in the eighth grade, came through a grueling two days of competition against some of the nation's best spellers.

Injury to Cop Said Inside Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus policeman received an unusual wound in the line of duty Thursday.

A group of 12 officers were standing in the roll call room at police headquarters when someone threw a large firecracker into their midst wounding patrolman Bert Moore in the right ankle. Moore was given first aid and a tetanus shot.

When asked if the department would investigate, a high police official replied: "No. Fireworks are against the law in Columbus."

Dear Abby: He's in Revolt

DEAR ABBY: I wonder what has come over my husband. We have been married almost twenty years and he has started to act rather peculiar lately. He goes out alone on weekends, all shaved and cleaned up and doesn't come home until early in the morning. When I ask him where he's been, he says it's none of my business. He is so afraid I will look in his wallet he sleeps with his pants on all night. I don't like to have to fight in front of the children, but I would like to have it out with him. I think he has somebody else. How can I find out without asking him?

WANTS THE TRUTH
DEAR WANTS: What's the matter with asking him? A man who sleeps with his pants on all night has really got both feet into it. Maybe his head needs examining as well as his wallet. Don't let this peculiar behavior continue unexplained.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 27-year-old mother of three. This may sound silly, but I would like to look my age. Salesmen come to my door and ask to speak to my mother. Recently at a dance, a 19-year-old kid kept making eyes at me. He thought I was my husband's kid sister. This kind of thing goes on all the time. I dread going anywhere liquor is served because I must always show proof of my age, and then sometimes they don't believe me. They all say it is my baby face and slim figure. What can I do, Abby, short of wearing old ladies' dresses and dying my hair gray?

LOOKS YOUNG

DEAR ABBY: Last Friday I called my sister and invited her and her husband to come for Sunday dinner at one in the afternoon. She said she'd ask her husband and call back. At 1:15 on Sunday she called and said she "forgot" about it, and asked if we still wanted them. I said the roast was in the oven, and if they came at 2 p.m. it would be fine. She said they were just eating a dinner of

She stressed the fact that this word has been with us since the beginning of time. It was a word used frequently by Jesus when talking to His disciples. It is a word and an idea handed down throughout the generations, the great meaning being to go forward and progress. It is a word used most recently and thrillingly when Col. John Glenn was "go" for his orbits of the earth.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Nighttime cooling under mostly fair skies Thursday night lowered temperatures by dawn today into the 50s and 60s. Some of these near-dawn temperatures included Columbus and Dayton 63, Cleveland 62, Cincinnati 67 and Toledo 56.

As high pressure north of the Great Lakes slides slowly eastward, winds will gradually turn from the east toward the south-east today. This will produce a little more cloudiness than Thursday. However, sunshine should dominate most of today.

Dry weather mostly likely will continue tonight. There is a good possibility of thundershowers developing Saturday, especially in the southwestern counties, and spreading over most of the state by Saturday afternoon or night.

Temperatures this afternoon and Saturday afternoon will be in the 80s, except for portions of the northern counties. Little change in temperature is forecast tonight.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average five to seven degrees below normal. Normal high 78 - 80, normal low 56-60. Pleasant through Saturday, considerable cloudiness and somewhat cooler with scattered showers Sunday and early next week, followed by clearing and a slow warming trend through mid-week. Rainfall will average three-tenths to four-tenths of an inch.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average two to four degrees below normal with minor day-to-day changes. Normal high 79-84, normal low 58-62. Rainfall will average three-fourths to one inch in occasional periods of showers or thundershowers Saturday through Monday.

Spelling Bee Declared Draw

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials called the national spelling bee a draw today and crowned Michael Day of Hardin, Ill., and Nettie Crawford of Roswell, N.M., as co-champions.

The decision was reached after the two, with all the rest of the field of 70 eliminated, had engaged in more than an hour of head - and - head wrestling with words that grew stranger by the round.

They had used up a total of 59 tongue-twisting words, many derived from foreign languages.

The beaming winners, tall, 13-year-old Nettie, eighth - grade daughter of a New Mexico farmer, and red-haired Michael, 14, also in the eighth grade, came through a grueling two days of competition against some of the nation's best spellers.

Injury to Cop Said Inside Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Columbus policeman received an unusual wound in the line of duty Thursday.

A group of 12 officers were standing in the roll call room at police headquarters when someone threw a large firecracker into their midst wounding patrolman Bert Moore in the right ankle. Moore was given first aid and a tetanus shot.

When asked if the department would investigate, a high police official replied: "No. Fireworks are against the law in Columbus."

'Big Boy' Dies at 62

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Guinn (Big Boy) Williams, 62, famed comedy hero of Western movies, died this week.

Dear Abby: He's in Revolt

DEAR ABBY: I wonder what has come over my husband. We have been married almost twenty years and he has started to act rather peculiar lately. He goes out alone on weekends, all shaved and cleaned up and doesn't come home until early in the morning. When I ask him where he's been, he says it's none of my business. He is so afraid I will look in his wallet he sleeps with his pants on all night. I don't like to have to fight in front of the children, but I would like to have it out with him. I think he has somebody else. How can I find out without asking him?

WANTS THE TRUTH
DEAR WANTS: What's the matter with asking him? A man who sleeps with his pants on all night has really got both feet into it. Maybe his head needs examining as well as his wallet. Don't let this peculiar behavior continue unexplained.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 27-year-old mother of three. This may sound silly, but I would like to look my age. Salesmen come to my door and ask to speak to my mother. Recently at a dance, a 19-year-old kid kept making eyes at me. He thought I was my husband's kid sister. This kind of thing goes on all the time. I read going anywhere liquor is served because I must always show proof of my age, and then sometimes they don't believe me. They all say it is my baby face and slim figure. What can I do, Abby, short of wearing old ladies' dresses and dying my hair gray?

LOOKS YOUNG

DEAR ABBY: Last Friday I called my sister and invited her and her husband to come for Sunday dinner at one in the afternoon. She said she'd ask her husband and call back. At 1:15 on Sunday she called and said she "forgot" about it, and asked if we still wanted them. I said the roast was in the oven, and if they came at 2 p.m. it would be fine. She said they were just eating a dinner of Wanting to keep peace in the family, I told them to come at 7 p.m. They came at 7 and ate and ran, and I was in the kitchen doing dishes at 11 at night. Should I have let her push me around this way, or should I have told her to go jump in the lake?

PUSHED AROUND

NICE, France (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco says she definitely will not play in Alfred Hitchcock's film "Marnie." She indicated she probably has retired from the movies permanently.

The former Grace Kelly announced two months ago that she would make her return to the screen this summer in the Hitchcock movie. Later the British director said he had postponed the production.

The newspaper Nice Matin, published an interview today with Princess Grace.

"On the one hand I will not have time and on the other I have been definitely influenced by the reaction provoked in Monaco at the announcement of my participation in the making of this film," she said.

"Such a 'vacation' devoted to the cinema would have been amusing for me, but under the condition that the prince (her husband, Prince Rainier) and our children be present. That is not possible, and I would not care to go without them. Making a film takes much time nowadays and 'Marnie' would take longer than I had thought."

Asked if she had definitely decided to abandon film making forever, the princess said:

"I would not like to use the word 'definite' but it is evident that the same problems would arise."

Make that homemade coffee cake look professional! Glaze it with a thin frosting made by mixing a cup of sifted confectioners' sugar with about five tablespoons of milk and about a quarter teaspoon of vanilla.

MESSINA, Sicily (AP)—Fred Baldasare of Cocoa, Fla., will celebrate his 38th birthday Saturday by trying to swim the Strait of Messina under water.

It has never been done. Few have ever swum the three mile crossing on the surface. It is infested with sharks, and the swift current between Sicily and the Italian mainland has always been a shipping hazard.

Baldasare thinks he can swim the three miles underwater from Torre Faro on the northeast tip of Sicily to Punta Pezzo on the mainland in four hours. He will use a mask and oxygen tank.

Baldasare was born at Wells, Ohio, but lives at Route 1, Coquina Ridge, Cocoa, Fla.

June Bride

In a moment, the organist will strike a chord. There will be a sudden hush in the church, then the strains of the wedding march will peal forth and she will take her father's arm and start up the aisle, her measured steps symbolic of the very real hesitation she will be feeling.

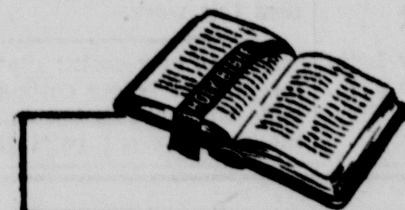

She would not be human if she did not hesitate. These steps she is about to take are the most important steps of her life. She is poised on the threshold of another existence in which the pronoun she uses will be "We" and not "I." Soon she will learn to think of another before she thinks of herself. Presently, she will come to know fully the meaning of the word "share."

As she moves forward, she falters for just a second. Then her step becomes sure, her lips curve in a smile. The church through which she walks is dear and beloved to her—and so is the man who stands waiting for her beside the altar. Her marriage, blessed by faith, is beginning where all marriages should begin—in the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Grace Decides Not To Play In New Film

NICE, France (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco says she definitely will not play in Alfred Hitchcock's film "Marnie." She indicated she probably has retired from the movies permanently.

The former Grace Kelly announced two months ago that she would make her return to the screen this summer in the Hitchcock movie. Later the British director said he had postponed the production.

The newspaper Nice Matin, published an interview today with Princess Grace.

"On the one hand I will not have time and on the other I have been definitely influenced by the reaction provoked in Monaco at the announcement of my participation in the making of this film," she said.

"Such a 'vacation' devoted to the cinema would have been amusing for me, but under the condition that the prince (her husband, Prince Rainier) and our children be present. That is not possible, and I would not care to go without them. Making a film takes much time nowadays and 'Marnie' would take longer than I had thought."

Asked if she had definitely decided to abandon film making forever, the princess said:

"I would not like to use the word 'definite' but it is evident that the same problems would arise."

Make that homemade coffee cake look professional! Glaze it with a thin frosting made by mixing a cup of sifted confectioners' sugar with about five tablespoons of milk and about a quarter teaspoon of vanilla.

MESSINA, Sicily (AP)—Fred Baldasare of Cocoa, Fla., will celebrate his 38th birthday Saturday by trying to swim the Strait of Messina under water.

It has never been done. Few have ever swum the three mile crossing on the surface. It is infested with sharks, and the swift current between Sicily and the Italian mainland has always been a shipping hazard.

Baldasare thinks he can swim the three miles underwater from Torre Faro on the northeast tip of Sicily to Punta Pezzo on the mainland in four hours. He will use a mask and oxygen tank.

Baldasare was born at Wells, Ohio, but lives at Route 1, Coquina Ridge, Cocoa, Fla.

In a moment, the organist will strike a chord. There will be a sudden hush in the church, then the strains of the wedding march will peal forth and she will take her father's arm and start up the aisle, her measured steps symbolic of the very real hesitation she will be feeling.

She would not be human if she did not hesitate. These steps she is about to take are the most important steps of her life. She is poised on the threshold of another existence in which the pronoun she uses will be "We" and not "I." Soon she will learn to think of another before she thinks of herself. Presently, she will come to know fully the meaning of the word "share."

As she moves forward, she falters for just a second. Then her step becomes sure, her lips curve in a smile. The church through which she walks is dear and beloved to her—and so is the man who stands waiting for her beside the altar. Her marriage, blessed by faith, is beginning where all marriages should begin—in the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Christ Speaks to the Churches

CHRIST'S LAST MESSAGE BEFORE HIS ASCENSION
AND HIS LATER MESSAGES THROUGH THE
HOLY SPIRIT TO SEVEN ASIAN CHURCHES

Scripture—Acts 1:1; 11:25-29; Revelation 1-3.

By N. SPEER JONES
TODAY'S lesson concerns
evangelism.

This is evident in our opening selection, in which the risen Christ gives what was probably His last message to His disciples before His ascension. It is both a command and a prophesy; His disciples shall be His witnesses—that is, they shall evangelize the world.

The Greek word which is translated "witness" is "martyr," from which has come our word "martyr." Originally it meant one who testified at a trial. As so many Christians who thus testified about what they knew and had observed of Christ, were rewarded with death, the word changed to its present meaning—one who dies for a conviction.

Our next selection (Acts 11: 25-29) occurs about 15 years

time was in deed as well as in word; its members donated funds for the relief of their fellow-Christians stricken by famine in Judea.)

The third and last selection in today's lesson is from the book of Revelation, written some 45 years later, about 90
A.D. In it, John commits to writing certain revelations made to him by the ascended Christ, through the Holy Spirit.

In the portion assigned, John transmits to "the seven churches that are in Asia" messages given them by Christ in His revelation. Asia at that time referred to a Roman province of that name, located on the western side of what is now known as Asia Minor. It was a thriving area.

The letters involve a certain symbolism, based on the vision John was given—of Christ in the midst of seven lampstands

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with Me."—Revelation 3:20.

later, in about 45 A.D. Paul, or Saul, who had once spread the Gospel involuntarily by scattering the Christians through his persecutions, had been converted about 10 years earlier.

Some of the scattered Christians settled in Antioch (now far north in Syria), a city infamous for its moral laxity. It was also the third largest city in the Roman world, ranking after Rome and Alexandria.

The Christian immigrants
there did their work well, as Barnabas discovered when the Jerusalem church sent him out to work with them. At length Barnabas realized that he had no more to teach the church at Antioch, so he went to Tarsus to seek Paul, the original persecutor, to further the evangelism at Antioch.

(Notice that the Christianity of the Antioch church at this time was based on the teachings of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission.)

(referring to the seven churches), carrying seven stars in His right hand. These seven stars represent the corporate personality or character of each church, expressed through a "representative angel" in Christ's presence.

All the letters are constructed around the same theme—a description of what the church is doing (if possible), a rebuke (if deserved), an exhortation and a promise.

The cities of Smyrna and Philadelphia are too good to warrant a rebuke. On the other hand, the last city, Laodicea, is too bad to warrant commendation.

Yet even to it, He gives a most beautiful hope; He stands knocking, even there, promising to come to those who invite Him in.

Daily Bible Readings in Florida Schools OK

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —
The Florida Supreme Court has upheld the right of Florida schools to have daily Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer.
In a strongly worded unanimous decision, the court said that a state law requiring Bible readings did not violate constitutional provisions for separation of church and state.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—
U.S. combat infantrymen stationed in central Thailand will soon move to a new camp on high ground in preparation for a long stay in the strategic Southeast Asian kingdom, informed sources reported today.

The sources said the 2,000 men

Catholic-Public 'Share Time' Plan for Schools Debated

NEW YORK (AP)—Should Roman Catholic schools, under the pressure of heavy enrollments and the controversy about state and federal aid, work toward "share time" partnership with public schools?

Two Catholic superintendents of schools debate the question in articles in the June issue of The Catholic Educator.

The Very Rev. Arthur T. Geoghegan, superintendent of schools of the diocese of Providence, R.I., who favors the recently suggested plan, begins his discussion with a definition:

"Briefly stated, shared time
means that a pupil in a church-sponsored school would receive part of his instruction in a neighoring public school and part in the church-sponsored school. He might, for instance, attend classes in spelling, penmanship, mathematics and science in the public school and study religion, history and literature in the church-related school."

Msgr. Driscoll, who opposes the shared time plan simply because I do not think it is sharing anything.

"About the only thing it shares, or establishes, is the fact that the child has a right to participate in part instruction of the public school; that the school can legally collect money for doing a half-time job, perhaps in the physical sciences and in the practical or manual arts."

And, Msgr. Driscoll says, "I also find it difficult to fit this program into the Catholic viewpoint on education."

"The fundamental principles upon which Christian education is based must be observed in every aspect of the curriculum."

Ohio Fuel Gas Gets Nod To Sell Property

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Utilities Commission has approved the application of Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to sell its natural gas distribution properties to Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc.

Upon issuance of stock by Columbia Gas of Ohio, both corporations will be wholly owned subsidiaries of the Columbia Gas System, Inc.

The transaction is subject to approval by the Federal Power Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Under the sale, Ohio Fuel would own and operate the production, transmission and storage facilities in Ohio and sell natural gas to wholesale customers only, including Columbia of Ohio.

Columbia would own and operate the distribution facilities now owned by Ohio Fuel and distribute and sell natural gas to retail customers only.

Attorney Examiner Robert Strickling said the transaction will not effect any changes in retail rates.

GIs in Thailand Plan Moving to Hilltop
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — U.S. combat infantrymen stationed in central Thailand will soon move to a new camp on high ground in preparation for a long stay in the strategic Southeast Asian kingdom, informed sources reported today.

The sources said the 2,000 men of the 27th Infantry Wolfhound Battle Group, presently encamped near a highway in the foothills 115 miles northeast of Bangkok, will build a more permanent camp nearby but higher up to escape flooding from Thailand's fierce monsoon rains.

Christ Speaks to the Churches

CHRIST'S LAST MESSAGE BEFORE HIS ASCENSION
AND HIS LATER MESSAGES THROUGH THE
HOLY SPIRIT TO SEVEN ASIAN CHURCHES

Scripture—Acts 1:8; 11:25-29; Revelation 1-3.

By N. SPEER JONES
TODAY'S lesson concerns evangelism.

This is evident in our opening selection, in which the risen Christ gives what was probably His last message to His disciples before His ascension. It is both a command and a prophecy; His disciples shall be His witnesses—that is, they shall evangelize the world.

The Greek word which is translated "witness" is "martus," from which has come our word "martyr." Originally it meant one who testified at a trial. As so many Christians who thus testified about what they knew and had observed of Christ, were rewarded with death, the word changed to its present meaning—one who dies for a conviction.

Our next selection (Acts 11:25-29) beholds about 15 years time was in deed as well as in word; its members donated funds for the relief of their fellow-Christians stricken by famine in Judea.)

The third and last selection in today's lesson is from the book of Revelation, written some 45 years later, about 90 A.D. In it, John commits to writing certain revelations made to him by the ascended Christ, through the Holy Spirit. In the portion assigned, John transmits to "the seven churches that are in Asia" messages given them by Christ in His revelation. Asia at that time referred to a Roman province of that name, located on the western side of what is now known as Asia Minor. It was a thriving area.

The letters involve a certain symbolism, based on the vision John was given—of Christ in the midst of seven lampstands

GOLDEN TEXT

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with Me."—Revelation 3:20.

later, in about 45 A.D. Paul, or Saul, who had abandoned the Gospel involuntarily by scattering the Christians through his persecutions, had been converted about 10 years earlier.

Some of the scattered Christians settled in Antioch (now far north in Syria), a city infamous for its moral laxity. It was also the third largest city in the Roman world, ranking after Rome and Alexandria.

The Christian immigrants there did their work well, as Barnabas discovered when the Jerusalem church sent him out to work with them. At length Barnabas realized that he had no more to teach the church at Antioch, so he went to Tarsus to seek Paul, the original persecutor, to further the evangelism at Antioch.

(Notice that the Christianity of the Antioch church in this referring to the seven churches), carrying seven stars in His right hand. These seven stars represent the corporate personality or character of each church, expressed through a "representative angel" in Christ's presence.

All the letters are constructed around the same theme—a description of Christ, a commendation for what the church is doing (if possible), a rebuke (if deserved), an exhortation and a promise.

The cities of Smyrna and Philadelphia are too good to warrant a rebuke. On the other hand, the last city, Laodicea, is too bad to warrant commendation.

Yet even to it, He gives a most beautiful hope; He stands knocking, even there, promising to come to those who invite Him in.

Catholic-Public 'Share Time' Plan for Schools Debated

NEW YORK (AP)—Should Roman Catholic schools, under the pressure of heavy enrollments and the controversy about state and federal aid, work toward "share time" partnership with public schools?

Two Catholic superintendents of schools debate the question in articles in the June issue of The Catholic Educator.

The Very Rev. Arthur T. Geoghegan, superintendent of schools of the diocese of Providence, R.I., who favors the recently suggested plan, begins his discussion with a definition:

"Briefly stated, shared time means that a pupil in a church-sponsored school would receive part of his instruction in a neighboring public school and part in the church-sponsored school. He might, for instance, attend classes in spelling, penmanship, mathematics and science in the public school and study religion, history and literature in the church-related school."

Msgr. Geoghegan and The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Justin A. Driscoll, superintendent of schools of the archdiocese of Dubuque, Iowa, agree on the point that the optimum educational plan, in the Catholic viewpoint, is a full-time program in a church-affiliated school.

However, Msgr. Geoghegan asks, "To how many children are Catholic schools available? With more than 25 per cent of the children born annually in the United States baptized Catholics, fewer than half of them can hope to attend Catholic elementary schools. Catholic secondary schools can accommodate still fewer. By 1970 only one out of every three Catholic children will be able to attend a Catholic school."

Msgr. Driscoll, who opposes the shared time plan simply because I do not think it is sharing anything.

"About the only thing it shares, or establishes, is the fact that the child has a right to participate in part time instruction of the public school; that the school can legally collect money for doing a half-time job, perhaps in the physical sciences and in the practical or manual arts."

And, Msgr. Driscoll says "I also find it difficult to fit this program into the Catholic viewpoint on education."

"The fundamental principles upon which Christian education is based must be observed in every aspect of the curriculum."

Universal Studios Tries To Be Youthful at Age 50

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Happy birthday, dear Universal Pictures, happy 50th birthday to you.

Carl Laemmle founded the company in New York City on June 8, 1912. That makes it older than any other movie empire, but younger than many leading men.

Universal has always seemed young, despite its half-century of existence. From the start it was a scrappy little independent, fighting the big studios with nerve and talent. It has undergone many a change in operation, and soon will get its biggest change.

Hollywood's film history books record that Laemmle was a battler. He stood up to the trust that controlled the industry in the spawning days by strict enforcement of patents. A crusty little German immigrant, he shared what other movie pioneers had: An instinct for entertainment.

Laemmle may well have started the star system by hiring Florence Lawrence at $1,000 a week and billing Mary Pickford with her own name, instead of "the girl with the curls."

He started building the sprawling Universal lot just over the hill from Hollywood in 1914. The studio boasts that it is the biggest single lot in town—"bigger than Princess Grace's Monaco." It is also the only studio with its own post office—Universal City.

Laemmle sold out in 1935, but the studio kept up his policy of making films cheap, good and often. Universal thrived during the war boom.

Another change in management saw the take-over by William Goetz and Leo Spitz with their International Pictures. This led to the redundant and bothersome title of Universal-International.

The Goetz-Spitz combine concentrated on quality films with fair results.

Lacking hit products, Universal shut down for a soul-searching period. Eventually it sold the studio property to the bustling new television giant, Revue, and rented back space.

Universal converted to a policy of a few, specially tailored films, hopefully blockbusters.

Now Universal is on the verge of a merger with Revue. With such an infusion of energy Laemmle's lot is likely to be in business for another 50 years.

Grain Merchant Enters Innocent Plea in Fraud

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Ronald L. Reed, president of Bettsville Feed & Grain Co., pleaded innocent in Municipal Court to charges of fraudulently converting grain stored with his company.

Reed, 44, has been held in Seneca County Jail for two weeks for investigation of alleged irregularities in grain and stock dealings. He was placed under $10,000 bond and a preliminary hearing was set for June 14. Reed already was under $50,000 bond in connection with alleged sales of unregistered stock.

Gallon Size Liquor Jugs To Disappear Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Those "king size" bottles of liquor will soon disappear from Ohio's state store shelves.

Norris Ecker, director of stores and purchases, said that by mutual agreement between the liquor department and the distillers and distributors all gallon containers of spirits will be withdrawn as of June 30.

Ford Plant Is Struck

CLEVELAND (AP)—A walkout today shut down the Ford stamping plant at Walton Hills. It employs 3,200.

During the 1961-62 school term there were two Ohio school districts with no school buildings.

Ecker said the agreement was reached following a 15-month analysis which indicated that no one wanted them.

It wasn't profitable for the distiller; the gallon size was too expensive for the average consumer, and it was awkward for store personnel to handle.

The half-gallon size, however,

Universal Studios Tries To Be Youthful at Age 50

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Happy birthday, dear Universal Pictures, happy 50th birthday to you.

Carl Laemmle founded the company in New York City on June 8, 1912. That makes it older than any other movie empire, but younger than many leading men.

Universal has always seemed young, despite its half-century of existence. From the start it was a scrappy little independent, fighting the big studios with nerve and talent. It has undergone many a change in operation, and soon will get its biggest change.

Hollywood's film history books record that Laemmle was a battler. He stood up to the trust that controlled the industry in the spawning days by strict enforcement of patents. A crusty little German immigrant, he shared what other movie pioneers had: An instinct for entertainment.

Laemmle may well have started the star system by hiring Florence Lawrence at $1,000 a week and billing Mary Pickford with her own name, instead of "the girl with the curls."

He started building the sprawling Universal lot just over the hill from Hollywood in 1914. The studio boasts that it is the biggest single lot in town—"bigger than Princess Grace's Monaco." It is also the only studio with its own post office—Universal City.

Laemmle sold out in 1935, but the studio kept up his policy of making films cheap, good and often. Universal thrived during the war boom.

Another change in management saw the take-over by William Goetz and Leo Spitz with their International Pictures. This led to the redundant and bothersome title of Universal-International.

The Goetz-Spitz combine concentrated on quality films with fair results.

Lacking hit products, Universal shut down for a soul-searching period. Eventually it sold the studio property to the bustling

The half-gallon size, however,

said Ecker, "like Topsy is still growing" in popularity.

The director of stores and purchases also said that basically there has been no change in the so-called "deluxe" liquor sales arrangement instituted before he took office.

Ecker said, however, that all items are constantly being reviewed, the deluxe items among them, and that substitutions and withdrawals are made as the various items rise or decline in favor.

Circleville Youth Baseball Week Proclaimed by Mayor

Richard Penn, mayor of Circleville, issued a proclamation yesterday declaring the week of June 9 through 16 as Circleville Youth Baseball week.

During the week members of the Circleville Youth Baseball Program will conduct a fund raising drive. This is the only money raising project team members of the Program conduct.

They will canvass Circleville in groups wearing their uniforms. They will be selling candy in an attempt to raise the $4,250 budget

Scioto Downs To Feature 9-Race Card

Saturday night's nine race card at Scioto Downs will see nine fast class trotters going postward in the $3,500 Class 16 stake, and seven class pacers fighting it out in the $2,000 Invitational Pace.

The co-featured trotting stake takes on an International flavor with the entry of Highland Glen A, owned and driven by Eddie Cobb of Washington C. H. as the early pre-race choice. This brilliant diagonal gaiter was bred and raised in Christchurch, New Zealand, and sent to Cobb to race in the United States.

Cobb, who gained national distinction with his driving feats behind the fabulous Adios Butler has performed well in the sulky of the New Zealand speedster, driving him to a record of 2:02 2-5.

The trotting event also marks the return to Scioto Downs of last year's leading driver Wayne "Curly" Smart. The crafty veteran from Delaware will take Amkey, to the post as second choice with his record of 2:05 4-5. Bob Seabrook, last year's leading driver during the MARRA race meeting at Scioto Downs will rein Hi Lo's Rogue as third choice with his record of 2:04 4-5.

Not to be overlooked in the trotting event is Ralph Abbe, owned by Ray Hennessey of Bellefontaine, Ohio. With young Joe Marsh Jr., in the sulky Ralph Abbe has won in 2:05 1-5 at Hazel Park this year. Add to these outstanding trotters, the names of the Millionaires, J.R.F., Ayne, Cedar Crest Liner, and Little Frank, and you have the ingredients for a blistering fast mile.

The co-featured $2,000 Invitational Pace drew one of the finest fields of the young meeting.

Only a low percentage points separate the early pre-race favorites, Jean's Mink, and Golden Gift. Jean's Mink, owned by Ed Hackett of London, with brother Dick Hackett in the sulky, ripped off a mile in 2:02 2-5 on opening night and Golden Gift owned by Tilden Richard of Washington C.H., beat a select field of pacers in 2:01 4-5 last Saturday.

Scoring in the number five post position is I'm It, who won this year in 2:00 2-5. The Pole horse is Edgewood Royal with a record of 2:00 1-5. The surprise entry in the race was M ighty Lass, an HTA eligible, owned by Francis Banks, of Rockford, Illinois, with Stan Banks in the sulky. This brown daughter of Mighty Way finished third to Mighty Tide in the HTA Pace at Maywood Park in 2:01 4-5.

Harsha Reports

Public Works Act Labeled Irresponsible, Unworkable

Congressman William H. Harsha of the Sixth Ohio District today characterized the Public Works Coordination and Acceleration Act, recently reported by the Committee on Public Works as irresponsible, unworkable, misleading, and an effort to usurp the powers of Congress.

Harsha said Public Works projects have never been effective in reducing unemployment during a recession. They take so long to get going that they generally do not provide much employment until recovery is under way.

He stated most public works programs will not provide many jobs for persons presently unemployed because much of the cost goes into the purchase of land, material and equipment and for the employment of professional and skilled persons who are not among the vast group of unemployed.

He further stated that this bill would not be available for flood control projects because it contains a restriction that the projects must be substantially completed within one year, thus eliminating any flood control projects in the Scioto River Basin. These projects will take from three to five years to construct.

Harsha claimed it is unworkable because it cannot give immediate relief since it requires as a condition for Federal grants the increase in total public works expenditures locally equal to the Federal program when many state legislatures meet only biennially and local budgets are processed on an annual basis.

The Congressman said this bill takes away from the Congress and gives to the President blanket authority to use funds in such amounts as he may allow for projects of such types or of such locations as he may select, including projects such as swimming pools, golf courses, and ski slides. He added, we are now experiencing the effects of the use of presidential power. It is a far reaching and dangerous precedent for the Congress to so abdicate its traditional and constitutional responsibilities.

Wheat Filing Deadline Here Set June 30

Application for 1963 wheat acreage allotments must be filed by June 30, 1962, according to the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

J. Austin Dowden, local ASCS office manager, said his office is accepting allotment applications for certain farms.

A producer who intends to seed wheat for 1963 on a farm for which a 1960, 1961 and 1962 allotment was not established and who desires to be considered for an allotment, must make application. He said this is irrespective of whether or not wheat was seeded for harvest as grain in those years.

Application forms are available in the ASCS office for use in filing a request for an allotment. The producer must apply in writing by June 30.

Ashville Teams Split in Local Babe Ruth Loop

General Electric killed a last inning rally by Ashville No. 1 yesterday to win a closely contested game 10-9, and Ashville No. 2 downed the VFW 8-5.

The Ashville crew, trailing 10-7, going into the final frame, rallied two big runs before Gary Leasure, in relief, retired the side.

The GE nine punched across two hits in their first time at bat, but the losers exploded for four in the last, or the second to take the lead. The winners came back in the third with three runs and blasted in four in the fourth. They scored their final tally in the fifth inning.

ASHVILLE had runs in the third, fifth and seventh. Jimmy Wood was the winning hurler. He fanned six and gave up 11 hits.

The GE nine touched Clay, the Ashville pitcher, for 15 hits. Five of these were for extra bases. Dave Bass and Mick Tomlinson each had three-for-five for the winners. Both connected for triples.

Bob Purcell blasted a triple and a double in three official trips. Gary Hoffman and Darrell Bass were both two for three.

Kenny Roese led the Ashville attack. He was four-for-four at the plate and scored two runs. The first and third baseman for the losing nine was three-for-four.

Cokemen Pace Action in Loop Play

In Little League action yesterday, Ralston Purina downed the American Legion, 6-3, Coca Cola clobbered Bingham Drugs, 36-3, and Circleville Oil downed First National, 12-9.

The Cokemen banged 20 hits and took advantage of 13 walks in their lopsided win. Tom Wright led the hitting attack with four safeties in six trips to the plate. Bob Tootle had the most runs — six — for the winners.

Rick Congrove, Coke leftfielder, blasted a grand slam home run. Allen Black slammed a triple. Sims had a double. Tootle blasted two doubles and Ed Wells had one. Dick Sims was the winning pitcher. He fanned nine of the Drugsters, gave up two bases on balls and was touched for two hits.

BINGMANS used three pitchers. Kenny Henn, Jimmy Campbell and George Lawson shared the mound duties for the losers. Henn gave up nine hits, Campbell allowed four and Lawson was touched for seven. They gave up a total of 13 bases on balls and struck out three.

Henn and Charles Zimmerman had the only hits for the Losers.

Tim Leasure and Larry Young led Ralston in their win over American Legion with two hits each. Young also scored two runs as did Ronnie Ward.

Jimmie Hill and Lynn Heath pitched a combined three hits. Hill and Leasure poked doubles for Ralston as did Dennis Melson for American Legion.

In the four innings that Heath pitched, he struck out eleven batters.

Carroll and Corne garnered the other two singles for the Legionnaires.

Terry issued the following statement:

"It is timely to undertake a comprehensive review of all available data.

"I have, therefore, decided to appoint an expert advisory committee to study the evidence, evaluate it, and make whatever recommendations may be appropriate.

Harsha Reports

Public Works Act Labeled Irresponsible, Unworkable

Congressman William H. Harsha of the Sixth Ohio District today characterized the Public Works Coordination and Acceleration Act, recently reported by the Committee on Public Works as irresponsible, unworkable, misleading, and an effort to usurp the powers of Congress.

Harsha said Public Works projects have never been effective in reducing unemployment during a recession. They take so long to get going that they generally do not provide much employment until recovery is under way.

He stated most public works programs will not provide many jobs for persons presently unemployed because much of the cost goes into the purchase of land, material and equipment and for the employment of professional and skilled persons who are not among the vast group of unemployed.

He further stated that this bill would not be available for flood control projects because it contains a restriction that the projects must be substantially completed within one year, thus eliminating any flood control projects in the Scioto River Basin. These projects will take from three to five years to construct.

Harsha claimed it is unworkable because it cannot give immediate relief since it requires as a condition for Federal grants the increase in total public works expenditures locally equal to the Federal program when many state legislatures meet only biennially and local budgets are processed on an annual basis.

The Congressman said this bill takes away from the Congress and gives to the President blanket authority to use funds in such amounts as he may allow for projects of such types or of such locations as he may select, including projects such as swimming pools, golf courses, and ski slides. He added, we are now experiencing the affects of the use of presidential power. It is a far reaching and dangerous precedent for the Congress to so abdicate its traditional and constitutional responsibilities.

Wheat Filing Deadline Here Set June 30

Application for 1963 wheat acreage allotments must be filed by June 30, 1962, according to the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

J. Austin Dowden, local ASCS office manager, said his office is accepting allotment applications for certain farms.

A producer who intends to seed wheat for 1963 on a farm for which a 1960, 1961 and 1962 allotment was not established and who desires to be considered for an allotment, must make application. He said this is irrespective of whether or not wheat was seeded for harvest as grain in those years.

Application forms are available in the ASCS office for use in filing a request for an allotment. The producer must apply in writing by June 30.

Ashville Teams Split in Local Babe Ruth Loop

General Electric killed a last inning rally by ashville No. 1 yesterday to win a closely contested game 10-9, and Ashville No. 2 downed the VFW 8-5.

The Ashville crew, trailing 10-7, going into the final frame, tallied two big runs before Gary Leasure, in relief, retired the side.

The GE nine punched across two hits in their first time at bat, but the losers exploded for four in the last, or the second to take the lead.

The winners came back in the third with three runs and blasted in four in the fourth. They scored their final tally in the fifth inning.

ASHVILLE had runs in the third, fifth and seventh. Jimmy Wood was the winning hurler. He fanned six and gave up 11 hits.

The GE nine touched Clay, the Ashville pitcher, for 15 hits. Five of these were for extra bases.

Dave Bass and Mick Tomlinson each had three-for-five for the winners. Both connected for triples.

Bob Purcell blasted a triple and a double in three official trips. Gary Hoffman and Darrell Bass were both two for three.

Kenny Roese led the Ashville attack. He was four-for-four at the plate and scored two runs. Grifey, the third baseman for the losing nine was three-for-four.

Several of the jumpers will be instructors and members of the chute club which was formed here recently.

The silk-hitters will be airlifted at Thomas Airport. Their drop zone is in a nearby field on the north side of Route 22.
